

Tell Me Who I am in Christ!

Tell Me Who God Is!

for Kids

By: Tara Davis

As moms, we occasionally struggle with finding our identity in the world around us rather than in Christ. It is easy to forget that our kids may struggle with this concept from time to time as well. Here is a simple conversation you can have with your kids to help them remember who they really are!

Go through the following short devotion together, talk about the printables on the next two pages, look up some of the verses provided, and let your kids share their hearts with you. Hang these Scripture printables somewhere visible to remind your kids of their true identities in Christ! You can print them from myhelpclubformoms.com

Discussion:

- Hey you! Can I ask you a question? Who are you? No, not your name, silly; who are YOU?! What defines who you are? Finding out who you are—your true identity—starts with finding out more about your Creator.
- You see, you were made as an image-bearer of your Creator—you were made to look like Him, act like Him, talk like Him, live like Him. HE alone is your identity. Sometimes it's tempting to base our feelings about ourselves on what other people say about us, or on how we think about ourselves, or even how we compare ourselves to others. These are all the wrong markers of our true self though. Our identities are found solely in Jesus!
- He has made you with a purpose, and He has an incredible plan for your life! Check out this list of qualities, on page 91, that God has created you to imitate. As a kid who follows Christ, this is your true identity, and no one can take that away from you! No one knows you as God does. Listen to Him and let the way He sees you form your thoughts about yourself. Walk closely with Him as He guides you on the path He has for your life!
- When you compare these two lists of qualities, do you see how amazing your Savior is and how His qualities are reflected in His plan for you as His creation? Walk in your true identity today! Your Heavenly Father loves you SO MUCH!
